People Analytics

Connect all the HCM insights you need to make better-informed workforce decisions.

The simplicity of working on one unified platform through Kronos Workforce Ready® means your teams can seamlessly manage your entire workforce from prehire to retire. And that single-solution simplicity also means all your workforce data is available at your fingertips — easily accessible to all teams and ready for you, the other stakeholders at your organization, and the HCM platform itself, to leverage to make better-informed workforce decisions.

The people analytics tools built into Workforce Ready make it easy to access the day-to-day, tactical data you need to effectively manage employees. Even more important, they fuel your long-term workforce strategies with emerging trends and predictive forecasts revealed through a powerful combination of configurable metrics and intuitive, AI-generated alerts.

The layered, hierarchical people analytics components allow you to quickly and easily access the analytics functionality and data you need to facilitate better decision making. It's simple, tiered access to valuable people data that can help you build your workforce strategy as your insights expand and your needs grow.
